

7:59
3/3
HAMPSHIRE BOOKSHOP spot for Thursday evening, March 3

143 words

Ever struggle with the ablative absolute? Are the pages of your Vergil spotted with blood, sweat, and tears? Do you know why "I cry for arms and a man" belongs in a collection of "boners"? If you can answer "yes" to these questions, come to The Hampshire Bookshop on Monday, March 7, at 8 p.m. to hear Miss Eleanor Duckett talk about "Life with Latin".

Miss Duckett, Professor Emeritus of Classics at Smith, is one of the most brilliant lecturers and scholars Smith has had. It will be a lively evening for ^{all} aficionados whether or not you know anything about St. Dunstan, subject of Miss Duckett's book to be published that day.

If the subject interests you, come. You will be very welcome at The Hampshire Bookshop on Monday, March 7th at 8 p.m. when Miss Eleanor Duckett speaks on "Life with Latin".

143 words

HAMPSHIRE BOOKSHOP spot for Thursday evening, March 3

Ever struggle with the adative absolute? Are the pages of your Vergil spotted with blood, sweat, and tears? Do you know why "I cry for arms and a man" belongs in a collection of "boners"? If you can answer "yes" to these questions, come to The Hampshire Bookshop on Monday, March 3, at 8 p.m. to hear Miss Eleanor Duckett talk about "Life with Latin".

Miss Duckett, Professor Emerita of Classics at Smith, is one of the most brilliant lecturers and scholars Smith has had. It will be a lively evening for all those who whether or not you know anything about St. Dunstan, subject of Miss Duckett's book to be published that day.

If the subject interests you, come. You will be very welcome at The Hampshire

Bookshop on Monday, March 3, at 8 p.m. when Miss Eleanor Duckett speaks on

"Life with Latin".